

MUMPS MAY BE IN TOWN, M.O.H. WARNS

By DR. J. H. WESLEY, M.O.H.

If it is MUMPS your boy or girl has, notify the M.O.H.

When there are cases of mumps in outside municipalities, it is only to be expected that there will be the odd one in town, but if the people will co-operate in carrying out the regulations for the prevention of communicable diseases, there will not likely be any serious epidemic.

Kindly note the following provisions. They are not hard.

- (1) No placard is required.
- (2) Isolate the sick one for 16 days from the commencement.
- (3) Quarantine of contacts—none.
- (4) Other children in the same house may continue at school.

Mumps is a contagious disease characterized by painful swelling and inflammation of the parotid gland, which is situated on the side of the face and in front of the ear. Draw a line forward on the side of the face from the lobe of the ear and half of the swelling will be above the line and half below. By this you will know the trouble is in the parotid gland and not swollen glands below the jaw caused by sore throat.

This disease does not often affect young children—say under five, and not many over 15 are affected. In about 15 to 30 percent of males over 15 that are affected the disease settles in some of the other glands of the body and the symptoms are very distressing.

There are also about 25 other occasional complications, which fact carries the warning that the infection of the disease is of a malignant type and requires careful treatment.

The diagnosis of this trouble is easy, particularly when the epidemic gets well under way and the most of the children are wearing the wide face of the fashion.

Mumps is generally a cold-weather disease and develops most readily when children or young adults are in close contact as in schools and barracks; epidemics being more common in army than civilian life.

Mumps is carried by its own germ and is found in the saliva as it passes into the mouth from the salivary glands. It is carried by direct transmission from person to person in the form of minute droplets.

One or both sides of the face may be affected and one attack confers immunity for life.

The incubation period, meaning the time of exposure to the disease until the onset, is around 18 days. The first symptom is usually swelling accompanied with pain and stiffness of the jaw. The mild cases will run their course in a week or ten days, while the swelling in the more severe ones may run several weeks. A case is usually considered free from contagion when the swelling has gone.

Children with even a mild attack are better in bed until the fever has gone.

It is advisable to keep the mouth clean with some simple mouth-wash as boracic lotion, in order to prevent suppurative of the inflamed glands.

Externally, hot applications (better moist heat), camphorated oil or belladonna ointment are used to relieve pain.

There is no toxic preventative for mumps. The only prevention for others is the strict isolation of the afflicted ones until all the swelling has subsided.

RUSSIAN AID FUND NEARS $1,000 MARK

The response to the appeal of the Lions club on behalf of the Canadian Aid to Russia fund by the citizens of Newmarket, as shown below, has been most encouraging and while no objective was set for Newmarket, there is still time for those who have not contributed to do so. The total subscribed to date is $846.92.

Let's make this $1,000 by Saturday night, suggests General Chairman H. E. Lambert.

Those citizens who availed themselves of the opportunity to see the Russian war picture, "Moscow Strikes Back," shown on Tuesday night at the C.D.C. meeting, must realize the terrific sacrifice the Russian people are making. This picture showed the horror of war in reality, the awfulness of which must make us realize how fortunate our lot is, says Mr. Lambert.

Clothing

The campaign for clothing will continue throughout the winter. The local Red Cross Society will gladly accept and forward any clothing for this fund. If you cannot make delivery of same, please phone Frank Bowser and your parcel will be called for.

Razor Blades

An appeal is being made for new razor blades, since these cannot be purchased in quantity in Canada. They are required in Russian hospitals for wounded and sick soldiers. If you can spare a blade or so, won't you do so. We might secure several dozen here if all users gave one blade. Holders are also required.

Watches

Watches in good running condition and with a "second" hand are urgently needed by nurses in Russian hospitals. Have you a spare watch not in use? They cannot be purchased in wholesale quantities and this appeal is being sent out on this account. Watches requiring to be repaired are not wanted, as the watch repair industry is greatly overtaxed by a shortage of material and skilled workmen.

Canadian Corps Toughest In World, Says Officer

PROPAGANDA MARCH THROUGH BRITAIN
CALLED BY SPEAKER

Experiences overseas were the subject of short talks by officers of Newmarket basic training centre at a dinner meeting of the Lions club at the King George hotel on Monday evening. President Frank Bowser was in the chair. Frank Courtney introduced the speakers.

Major C. D. McCreary, who got overseas in December, 1939, with the Toronto Scottish, told of his unit's long wait until spring for its military vehicles. At last they were to arrive. They were to be there the next morning. The battalion arose, "with as much expectation as children on Christmas morning," to find 55 fruit wagons, laundry wagons and other commercial vehicles.

"We took over these vehicles to defend England with," said Major McCreary. "Shortly afterward we got our own vehicles, and had them 14 days when we got word to assemble at Plymouth."

The unit embarked and then was ordered to disembark. The ship was needed at Dunkirk. The vehicles had already gone to France, but with the exception of three vehicles that were unloaded at Brest they were all returned safely to their Toronto Scottish owners.

The unit was then assigned to a "propaganda job," Major McCreary said. Stripped of their badges they rolled through English villages night and day making the English people think that one of our boys was seething with and well defended by Canadians.

"England has been wonderful to the Canadians," was his final word. "Every Canadian soldier has a home to go to over there. If a soldier isn't having a good time over there, there is something the matter."

Capt. J. A. Eason, who left the Royal Regiment before Dieppe, told that Fred Evans, of Newmarket, now a prisoner in Germany, was a sergeant. "He is one fine boy as anybody would want to have, and I know you are all proud of him. He is only one of the many boys you have sent. He started as a private and worked up to be a sergeant in a fighting platoon. That is a pretty important job. He would have got a commission if he had come back from Dieppe."

Only three percent of the battalion returned from Dieppe, he said. Dieppe, he said, was "just one of those things in war." There was no unnecessary loss of life. "It was a do" and it had to be done.

Capt. M. E. Osborne said that "the Canadian corps is the best drilled, the best trained, best equipped, toughest fighting corps in the world, and when they go in there will be no excuses."

Lieut. J. G. McEwen told of having strangers come up to him in Britain and ask him to spend his next leave at their homes. "It is a hard job to teach him to hate," he said. "When they get a chance they will tear him limb from limb. They'll ring the bell and make every Canadian so proud they won't be able to stand high enough to cheer them."

Major N. M. Young, V.D., second-in-command, was at the head table but did not speak.

ICE FROM ROOF KILLS WHITCHURCH RESIDENT

Believed to have been crushed by large pieces of ice and snow which fell from the eaves of his house, John B. Grose, 77, Whitechurch township resident, died at York County hospital on Monday.

It is thought that Mr. Grose slipped on the icy ground in front of his home, and that as he lay for some minutes stunned large pieces of ice and snow fell on him from the roof.

Mrs. Grose, 70, found her husband lying on the ground. After covering him with blankets, she went a mile and a quarter over the snow-filled roads to a neighbor for help.

A.R.P. COLLECTION BRINGS FUND $28

(By Rudy Renzius, press representative of Newmarket Civil Defence Committee)

Russia was in everybody's mind Tuesday night. Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in their now famous fourth meeting at Casablanca promised still more aid to Russia. Toronto Symphony presented for the first time the fine Leningrad symphony, born during Russia's hardest days, and our local A.R.P. organization put on a public meeting in the town hall, where the famous movie "Moscow Strikes Back," was shown.

This is an actual war record and shows the mechanization of modern war, with all its destruction and cruelties perpetuated by man, at its worst. It was a powerful picture showing strong men fighting for and taking back conquered cities from the enemy, fired by their love for their country and fellow men. It's not a movie you will soon forget.

A $28 collection was taken up for the "Aid to Russia Fund" and Mr. H. E. Lambert made an appeal for good used clothing for Russia on behalf of our local Red Cross and the Lions club.

The guest speaker was Mr. Carl Caskey of the Ontario fire marshal's office. He gave a very inspired address on A.R.P. work. "There are no good sides to war, and even if things look bright just now, we must take the view that anything might happen and the thing to do is to keep our A.R.P. organizations alive," he said. "It takes only 30 hours of instruction to go through an A.R.P. course, taking in fire-fighting, first aid public utilities and other useful things that are helpful to a man even in peace time. It's a cheap price to pay for all this knowledge, and it strengthens a man, because if you think you are defeated, you are defeated."

Mr. Caskey told of returned persons' actual experiences in the Coventry raids and how the people there, thanks to their A.R.P. training, had been able to help in many ways, themselves and others who were suffering or trapped in debris or in burning buildings.

Let us keep up the good work. The attendance was very good and we were glad to see so many ladies present.

PUBLIC HEALTH NOT CHARITY, SAYS DENTIST

Desirability of regular dental inspections of every school child by a qualified dentist was urged by Capt. E. T. Guest, a dental officer at Newmarket basic training centre, at a meeting of the Newmarket Home and School Association on Tuesday evening.

The president, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, was in the chair. Rev. J. A. Koffend, the new chairman of the public school board, introduced the speaker. Capt. Guest, he said, had been for six years a member of the Toronto board of education and served as chairman for one year. He is a director of the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council.

Mrs. H. E. Gilroy gave a review of the life of her grandfather, Alexander Muir, composer of "The Maple Leaf Rag."

Capt. Guest gave an outline of the progress made by dentistry and then related dentistry to a public health program.

"To me the most thrilling chapter in dental progress is in the field of public health. Public health is not philanthropy. Public health measures are taken in a public, collective, organized way, usually at the expense of the taxpayer, to prevent disease. We know of the public health triumph over typhoid fever, the public health triumph over tuberculosis. We are living through the public health triumph over diphtheria."

"There are mass health methods of preventing dental damage. There should be systematic education by teachers and by public health dentists, and systematic education by parents. There should be systematic inspections. Every child's teeth must be carefully examined (annually) by a dentist, not just a look-see by a public health nurse, not just poor children but every child."

To measure the results of public health activities you need only compare findings in a school which has such a program with findings in a school that hasn't. We have had reports, through the Dental Hygiene Council, from practically every town and city in Ontario. I don't remember Newmarket being on the list.

"Sixty to 70 percent of children examined show dental defects. Many new teeth come in with defects that have to be corrected."

"In a school where there is no dental health program 95 to 100 percent of children have from ten to 15 defects each."

"In Toronto, before the dental inspection program was started, over 50 percent of children had septic mouths. In 1911 only 337 out of 80,000 children had septic mouths. Without the dental health program the number would have been over 40,000."

"That is what is being accomplished. We are working ourselves out of a job. Yes, and we glory in it. It is a mighty proud to have had the privilege of sharing in this story."

"I hope Capt. Guest can stay long enough in Newmarket to educate the public to demand from their authorities dental inspection in the schools for everybody," said H. A. Jackson, principal of Newmarket public schools. "I know many pupils who are suffering from mouth defects and are handicapped."

"I hope that the agitation for a public health nurse will go far enough that the public will demand that it include dental inspection."

Miss Dorothy Cotton sang "A Brown Bird Singing" to the great enjoyment of those present. She was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Mrs. W. F. Armour.

Pharmacist Dies, Is Given Masonic Honors

Ill only two weeks, Herbert George Ayers succumbed to a heart attack last Wednesday.

Born in Kent, England, Herbert George Ayers was the son of the late George and Phoebe Ayers, Newmarket. Mr. Ayers never married.

Mayor Invites V.O.N. Nurse Presentation To Council Monday

Mayor Favors $1,250 Grant For Nursing Budget, M.O.H. Gives His Approval to V.O.N. Proposal

A committee of citizens nominated at a public meeting Friday night will present to the town council next Monday a proposal for the establishment of a V.O.N. nursing service in Newmarket.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, Reeve F. A. Lundy and Councillors Wm. Dixon, A. V. Higginson, Frank Bowser and J. A. Perks participated in the public meeting.

Others present were Rev. J. A. Koffend, chairman of the public school board, Mrs. A. H. Woods, Mrs. M. B. Seldon, Bernard McHale, chairman of the separate school board, Mrs. Bertha Dunn, Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., H. A. Jackson, principal of the public schools, Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, Fred Thompson, chairman of welfare committee of Lions club.

The purpose of the meeting, called by the Home and School Association, was to discuss with Miss Winnifred Dawson, national supervisor of the Victorian Order of Nurses, the feasibility of establishing a branch in Newmarket.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales was nominated to take the chair.

"I think that people have gradually become educated to the idea that a nurse is very essential," said Dr. Dales. "There are two different ideas. One is a community nurse completely paid for by the town and under the control of the board of health. The other idea is a V.O.N. nurse."

"The V.O.N. I believe, was founded in 1897 to commemorate Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee. The V.O.N. gave great help in the Klondike and at the time of the Halifax explosion, and has distinguished itself."

"I think that the council would prefer to give a grant. My idea would be a board of six or seven citizens, to include whomever is mayor from time to time, the health officer, two or three ladies and two or three other citizens."

"V.O.N. standards are the same as for a public health nurse, but I understand that the V.O.N. nurse is particularly trained in home nursing. She will take a doctor's instructions."

"The nurse would carry out any toxicating, make any inspections of the schools. I don't be-

Lions Hunt Elephants To Help British Lion, Red Bear

WHITE ELEPHANT IS ANYTHING USEFUL THAT YOU DON'T NEED

There is likely to be some roading in the next couple of weeks when the Lions of Newmarket get on their annual elephant hunt.

They are out looking for a thousand and one "white elephants" for their second annual white elephant auction sale, which will be held in the town hall on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 17 and 18, to raise more funds for their war work funds.

What is a white elephant? Any article in your attic, cellar, cupboard or garage which you have no further use for but which someone else needs. There are dozens in nearly every household.

Then again bags of potatoes, chickens or livestock would be very acceptable. Any good used clothing will be baled up for the Russian relief work.

Members of the Lions club will be around to town homes some night soon to make a canvass for articles, new or used, and will leave cards on which to list articles, or use the coupon at the top of page four of this issue. Out of town readers are asked to fill in the coupon.

Last year the citizens of Newmarket and district brought out a grand array of good useful articles of furniture, hardware, dishes, toys, skates and what have you. These found ready sale and enabled the Lions to extend their war charity work.

For last year they say thank you and for this year, "do it again," and more of you.

ELECTORAL REFORM

The letters "P. R." do not stand for "President Roosevelt" but for a method of electing representatives to a parliament, legislature or other public body. It is "proportional representation." The essence of the idea is that each constituency would elect several members, say, four to seven, and that the voters would have not four or seven votes but one vote. Thus a sixth of the voters in a seven-member constituency could elect a member. This would give all sorts of minority groups a chance to be represented in parliament, and it would prevent any group from being over-represented in parliament.

The plan is a little more complicated than that, for the single vote of each elector is a "single transferable vote." He would mark his preferences 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and perhaps 6. The returning officer would first count the first choices. One candidate might then have more than the necessary one-sixth of votes. The returning officer would then tabulate the second choices on all the highest candidate's ballots, and give all his surplus votes to the other candidates in proportion to the second choices marked on all his ballots. He would deal similarly with extra votes obtained by other candidates. He would then eliminate the lowest candidate and redistribute his votes according to second choices, and then the next lowest or another candidate who had more votes than his quota.

This process would take a couple of days, but would mean that no citizen would throw away his vote no matter whom he voted for. This elaborate plan for giving public opinion accurate representation has been, according to the Ottawa Citizen, in operation in Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary since 1920.

The Progressive-Conservative party at its recent convention revived interest in the plan by appointing a committee to investigate and report on it. But the "Pro-Cons" can't get ahead of the Liberal party in that way, for it seems that the Liberal party appointed a committee on the subject away back in 1935. In fact, the Liberal Winnipeg Free Press says: "The record of the Liberal party with respect to electoral reform is not creditable." The 1919 convention of the Liberal party (it has never needed a convention since that time) endorsed proportional representation and all that it has done about it since has been to introduce half-heartedly a couple of P. R. bills that never got to first base, and appoint a committee which reported adversely.

The Canadian Proportional Representation Society sends us reprints of editorials on the subject from the Winnipeg Free Press, the Ottawa Citizen, the Montreal Gazette and the Toronto Star Weekly. They are all for P. R. Some of them say that the Liberal party has far more seats in parliament at the present time than its vote entitles it to, that the Conservative party has enjoyed a like advantage in the past, and, ba goon, the C.C.F. may get a similar break in the near future if there isn't electoral reform.

In these columns a couple of months ago we suggested that it would not be a good thing for the C.C.F. to go into power, with its rather different ideas, without having a majority of the popular vote behind it, yet this could very well happen if Liberals and Conservatives both oppose the C.C.F. in most constituencies. We suggested that the alternative vote in single-member constituencies would be fairer to all parties. If there were three candidates in a riding, a voter would express first and second preferences. If no candidate had a majority, the lowest would be eliminated and his ballots redistributed according to second choices.

The Ottawa Citizen suggests 40 or so city and suburban constituencies of an average of four members each and 85 single-member constituencies using the alternative vote.

The Winnipeg Free Press suggests that under this system the C.C.F. would have elected nearer 23 members than the seven it did elect in 1940 but that it could never get more seats than it was entitled to according to its popular support. In the same way, the Liberal party would have won only about 55 percent of the seats instead of the overwhelming majority it did secure. The Conservatives would have had 31 percent of the seats.

The alternative vote for single-member constituencies seems to be essential now if Canada is going to have three or more parties in each riding. Whether or not there should also be the large P. R. city seats seems to be a question of whether Canada wants group government or party government, a government getting its support from one or at the most two parties, or a government getting its support from three or four or half a dozen parties.

HOSPITAL EXPANSION

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales suggested a few weeks ago that this year the town council or Newmarket citizens should give some thought to means by which the town could co-operate with the York County hospital board in providing additional hospital accommodation. All northern York county municipalities should be ready to help.

York County hospital has been a boon to citizens of Newmarket, Aurora and northern York county, and to many other people who from time to time have been the victims of unfortunate highway accidents.

Dr. Dales said that accommodation has become short of what it should be, and that the demands on hospital space are likely to increase rather than decrease after the war. Two needs have been suggested from time to time by doctors using the hospital. One is an isolation ward or wing, where patients suffering from contagious ailments would be kept separate and distant from other patients. The other is a maternity wing, which would leave more space in the rest of the hospital for other cases.

Probably there are other needs, but those who are operating the hospital know definitely what is required. The important point, it seems to us, is to begin now to plan the financing of the expansion. Extension of the hospital could be made a practical and magnificent war memorial. After the last war Orillia built a soldiers' memorial hospital and in return for a substantial grant from the dominion government undertook to provide free hospitalization for all veterans of World War One.

We cited recently Bowmanville hospital's expansion plans. Bowmanville set up an expansion fund, and last year received two gifts or bequests of $5,000 each. More recently a resident of Brooklin, Ontario county, formerly of Darlington township, near Bowmanville, has given a hotel property to the hospital expansion fund. The hotel is being sold and the proceeds added to the fund.

York County hospital too should set up a fund and invite contributions. Incidentally, the annual meeting of the hospital board takes place shortly. It is an opportunity for town and district citizens to show by their presence that they are interested in the hospital's problems and that they appreciate the service which it is rendering to the community.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

WORLD PARLIAMENT

(Financial Post)

(Formation of a world parliament with very real powers to take charge of the affairs of this planet after the war, is advocated by Governor Harold Edward Stassen of Minnesota. Youthful Mr. Stassen, at 35, is an outstanding figure in U. S. politics. One of the outstanding political observers at Washington predicts a brilliant future for him in American Republican circles.

With Canada, too, Stassen is credited with having a most significant connection. For years he has worked closely with his northern neighbor and close, intimate friend, Hon. John Bracken of Manitoba.

On many occasions Stassen and Bracken have loaned each other special assistance in the way of research results, special investigations, etc. An interesting and speculative parallel is seen in this Bracken-Stassen personal relationship with that of Prime Minister King and President Roosevelt.

Highlights of the Stassen world parliament plan follow.)

The Stassen plan provides for a single-house world parliament, with representation and voting power based upon literate population, financial contributions to the expenses of the joint government, and resources of member nations. Each nation would select its representatives by the same means it selects its own legislative body.

The seven major categories in which this United Nations government would function, each under a member of the council, are outlined as follows:

First: To establish temporary governments over the Axis nations, preferably using citizens of the United Nations whose ancestry goes back to the particular Axis nation. Under these temporary governments, the Axis nations should be entirely disarmed, their criminal leadership punished for their acts of horror and betrayal of civilization. But no wholesale reprisals against innocent civilian populations should be countenanced.

Second: To administer the great international airports and airways of the future. The establishment of the right of flight, rules of the air, air traffic controls, elevation channels for flight in different directions, with various types of planes, the co-ordination of weather data, radio beams and communications, and the maintenance of safe and stable airports, all should be a major activity of the United Nations of the World.

Third: To administer the gateways to the seven seas.

Fourth: To increase trade between the peoples of the world. Only in this way can the general standard of living throughout the world be gradually improved. Only in this way can those countries with high standards of living maintain high standards of living without war. This does not contemplate a sudden change to universal free trade, but it does contemplate embarking upon a definite trend toward increased world trade. Stifling obstructions or heavy dumping of goods should both be avoided, as both break down economic systems and cause world distress.

Fifth: To increase the literacy of the people of the world. This should be approached, not as any utopian, grandiose idea, but with the definite realization that the ability to read and write is the key to much of the progress of man.

Sixth: To establish a world code of justice and a United Nations court to administer that code. The code of justice should obviously include provisions protecting minorities, preventing religious persecution, and abolishing slavery. The court should be named by the supreme courts of the member nations. The attorney-general or counsel-general would be one of the United Nations councilmen.

Seventh: To establish a United Nations legion, consisting of units of air strength, efficient modern naval forces, and highly mobilized, mechanized land divisions. The United Nations legion would enforce the code of justice, support the administration of international airports, airways, sea gateways, and ensure the continued disarmament of the Axis nations and of outlaw areas. It would be backed by the armed strength maintained by the individual members of the United Nations, including our own (U.S.A.) country.

SAME LOW TAXES

(Amherstburg Echo)

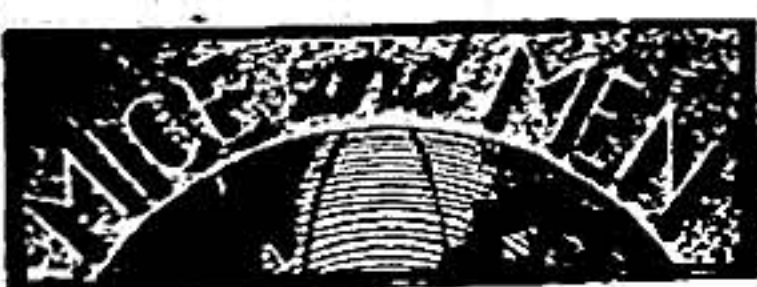

Ratepayers in the town of Amherstburg will enjoy the same low rate of taxation in 1943 as was in effect in 1942. This was decided at a special budget meeting of the Amherstburg council held on Monday evening when the general tax rate was struck at 25 mills. As in former years taxes will be due and payable in 12 monthly instalments and discounts for the prepayment of taxes will be continued.

The prompt manner in which the council of 1943 tackled the budget problem, and settled it, augurs well for a business administration during the coming year. It was absolutely necessary to take prompt action on this important matter as the roll must be out and all the clerical work done to get ready for the first two instalments of taxes due in February.

Although there was no discussion on the matter, in fact it was not even mentioned at the budget meeting of the council, the sum of $2,000 was included in the revenues as license fees from slot-machines in operation in the municipality. This in spite of the fact that four Amherstburg business men were hauled into court and fined $200 apiece for having these contraptions on their premises and allowing gambling. Frankly we think it would be better business to raise this sum through taxes than for the council to condone the operation of the machines in the town. However, that is a point of view which the members of the council do not seem to concur in. Other than this item, the budget is one of the best ever submitted to the council.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt have just held a ten-day conference with the general staffs of Britain and the U.S.A. at Casablanca and reached "complete agreement" on war plans for 1943. Although Premier Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek were unable to be present they were kept advised on the proceedings.

The Red army forces on the Voronezh, north Caucasus, lower Don and northern Donets fronts have over-run intervening areas and strengthened their lines.

General Charles de Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud, the two French leaders, have discussed their differences at a meeting in Africa, at the insistence of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

The suspension of ten workers at Montevideo, Uruguay, after an attempt to place a time bomb on a British ship loading meat was discovered, resulted in a protest strike by 3,500 other workers in three packing plants.

Five thousand of the striking steel workers at Sydney, N. S., went back to work this week. Four thousand at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and 3,500 at Trenton, N. S., are still on strike. Prime Minister King offered a guaranteed minimum of 55 cents an hour, including an irreducible cost of living bonus, and a chance to present a new wage case to the national war labor board, under a new chairman, in the place of Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor.

50 YEARS AGO

It's an "old-fashioned" winter this time for certain. There has been steady winter weather ever since Christmas. A January thaw would be acceptable as water is low in most cisterns.

The annual meeting of the North York Protection Society was held in Newmarket on Saturday afternoon. E. Jackson was re-elected president. John Black, Jr., and John E. Sharpe shot at and stunned an American eagle last Wednesday. The bird was 7' 6" from tip to tip of its outspread wings. It is rarely that American eagles are seen around here.

Wm. Smith's threshing engine was damaged to the extent of $200 when he was bringing it from his farm at Union Street down Lundy's mill hill on Second St. He was unable to hold the horses back when something broke and to save them from injury had to allow them to run. The engine upset in the ditch.

Wm. Dods was presented with a past master's badge and address from Lodge No. 84. Mr. Dods left on Wednesday for Brandon.

Bert Bogart had both bones broken below the knee when he was jumping on a cutter and his leg got fastened.

Of People And Things

TREES

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Since we've had a storm practically every day, our homes are like little islands in a vast sea of snow, and we take more notice of the things that have become so much a part of our lives that we hardly see them. However, trees have always fascinated me and I agree wholeheartedly with a poet who wrote so beautifully:

"I think that I shall never see a poem, lovely as a tree," for a tree is a living poem. It has grace, it has rhythm, it has ordered lines and a climax—it's lovely crown that "looks to God all day."

And trees are like great, strong nature-mothers and differ in their care of what is committed to their charge, just as human mothers do.

Near the house there are spruce and pine and chestnut trees, as well as apple and pear, and of them all, the spruce is the most motherly, for it cares for its children all the year round, while the apple and pear and chestnut throw off their lovely green cloaks and provide no shelter and no food for those who look to them for it.

In summer they wake from their long sleep, dress in vivid green gowns trimmed with white, or rose, or palest pink, and welcome, with open arms the little feathered travellers from the south, but for the winter birds and squirrels they have no pity—they must have their sleep, regardless of who suffers.

Not so the spruces. Their graceful arms reach down till their long sensitive fingers touch the ground and make a little sheltered circle, in which the birds may eat.

Then, their branches are so thickly set that I have seen squirrels pile up a little cache of crusts and nuts on their broad surface.

And how the squirrels love the cones! I've seen them—the squirrels—try to carry one up the tree and as the cones are half as long as the squirrels, and thick, they sometimes turn the squirrels right around on the tree, and then ensue a status quo period when the squirrel hangs on, upside down, until he has to let the cone go. Then he comes down after it, partly strips it and tries again.

This morning while the storm raged I looked out and there, swaying on a long branch were some twenty little sparrows dotted along it looking for all the world like fat grey buds ready to burst, and they were bursting with indignation, for the squirrels and bluejays were gobbling up the food.

Even in summer the birds love the spruces. There is a robin builds where I can look right into her nest from my window, and another spruce is the home of a lovely oriole who looks like a stray orange flower as he sits and sings at the very tip of the great tree.

I was thinking, too, of all that trees give us. Apples, oranges, lemons, dates, figs, limes, pears, peaches, nectarines, guavas, breadfruit, pomegranates, cherries, cumquats, walnuts, hazel nuts, pecans, filberts, Brazil nuts, beechnuts, almonds, chestnuts, coconuts.

Then they give us beautiful woods—mahogany, walnut, ebony, maple, birch, teak, satinwood, rosewood, larch, pine, cedar, ash, oak and others.

And what glorious fires are those where well-seasoned logs are piled on a hearth, or smaller apple wood sticks scent the air in an open stove or fireplace.

Log cabins housed our pioneering forefathers and goodly frame dwellings followed. The first log houses, made from the trees, heated by the trees, lighted by fat pine knots, and what feasts of syrup and sugar came to make gay the early spring?

We owe so much to the trees and what do we give them in return? For years they were slaughtered mercilessly to satisfy man's greed for gold, and with no thought of the impoverishment of the land, so denuded. Now we are tardily awaking to the value of trees and are trying, with what success remains to be seen, to re-forestate.

But I write this as a tribute to friends, for trees ARE friends, and I close with a little poem I had published in a magazine some months ago—"My Tree."

I have a tree—a friendly, graceful tree:

That makes my kitchen window live for me.

It's deep green lace, against the sky of noon

Or blackly etched against the silver moon;

It's strong, grey trunk down which nuthatches slide

And black and white woodpeckers backward glide.

Brown creepers circle it, its nooks afford

Safe hiding for the squirrel's winter hoard,

UNION STREET

Letters Of Appreciation Are Received From Boys

Owing to the stormy weather and bad roads on Thursday the Women's Institute held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Lorne Mahoney on Thursday, Jan. 14. There were 16 present.

The meeting opened by singing the Institute Ode, followed by the creed. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary.

The roll-call was answered by a "hot supper dish." Letters were read from Joe Rundle and Laurie Facey and others who received their Christmas boxes overseas. A letter from S. Johnson, a survivor of one of His Majesty's ships, who received one of the ditty bags, was read.

Mrs. Violet MacNaughton of Newmarket gave a splendid talk on "Women's Rights."

Miss Orma Graves gave a number of guitar selections.

Filched from the chickadees and juncos: gay

That come to feast on crumbs I spread each day.

Its towering peak points ever to the sky.

Lifting my troubled heart to seek on high.

The strength to meet my day, calm, unafraid

To face and conquer fear—then undismayed

Go forth to meet the unknown, do my tasks.

Till peace her smiling face once more unmasks.

For God, who counts the sparrows, cares for me,

And I have learned my lesson, from a tree.

DO YOU EXPECT YOUR EYES TO ALWAYS SERVE YOU?

We seldom think of our eyesight until it shows signs of failing. Yet our eyes do grow older, and lose their efficiency. As lengthening evenings bring more reading, sewing and close work, we increase the burden on already over-worked eyes.

Good vision is now more important than ever . . . It's wise to protect your eyesight.

Eyesight preservation begins now . . . have your eyes examined, and know that your eyesight is adequate.

PROTECTION . . . BY THE PEOPLE . . . FOR THE PEOPLE

"To love, cherish . . . and protect . . . that's what I said Ann, wasn't it?"

When the nurse came out with a big smile and said: "It's a boy," George could have kissed her. But later, when the doctor told him, with a grave face, that he couldn't go in yet, he sat waiting in a daze of fear.

Even when the danger was past and Ann came home with the "family," George kept talking of those awful minutes when he thought he might lose her.

"It would be worse if I lost you," said Ann, "and especially now."

"We'll simply have to save more, that's all," said George.

"But how can we, with all these bills coming in?"

"We've got to, Ann. On top of our insurance we'll have to put more into savings. I can't remember the mortgage service, but didn't I say, 'To love, cherish . . . and protect . . . till death us do part'?"

THAT'S the way a family man feels. He doesn't worry much about his own future. But when it comes to the future of his loved ones—that's another story. That's the story of life insurance. It came into existence because men and women and children needed it. It grew because people had to have it. It's the people's business; they own its assets—over two billion dollars of them.

Life insurance has been wisely administered to provide guardianship for the people, by the people. It is an ideal form of co-operative effort. It's a romance, really—a thrilling story of how the people's dollars co-operate in a democracy of protection within our greater democracy. And now that our democracy is threatened, millions of dollars of the people's premiums are being invested by the insurance companies in Victory Bonds. Our ultimate protection now depends on that . . . on a final and conclusive victory.

Gathering the Sport Facts

"Red" Barber, the baseball announcer who gave the world those colorful broadcasts of the world series last October, at least can get credit for doing one other good deed last year. On his own hook "Red" staged a one-man campaign to obtain blood for the fighting forces of the United States. Through "Red's" campaign Brooklyn baseball fans donated 35,000 pints of blood last year.

Let's hope that the International Baseball League doesn't adopt the same plan as their rival AA circuit, the American Association, has. They've cancelled all contracts for baseball broadcasts in 1943. They claim it hurts the attendance. We don't know what good fans in this neck of the woods would do in the summer without Al Leary or Slim Freckleton, and their play by play descriptions.

Before and after every fight, Jake LaMotta, one of the better known welterweights in the U.S., goes through ten rounds of shadow boxing. LaMotta must be either a screwball or an endurance man to go through 30 rounds in one night.

Bill Corum gets $500 per night for broadcasting fight shows. Corum will have a chance to earn his fee tomorrow night when Willie Pep meets Allie Stolz. Johnny Niggeling of the St. Louis Browns won every night game he pitched for Shem last year. Six of them. When the new gas ration books come out in April, horse racing will take a jolt. 'Tis rumored that Fort Erie and Stamford will move their meetings to Hamilton, and a sure thing that Thorncliffe will move their equipment to Woodbine. The Long Branch meeting will still be held at Dufferin, the same as last year.

In five years with the New York Giants, Shanty Hogan, the roly-poly catcher who once played with the Toronto Maple Leafs, was fined over $4,000 by John McGraw. Johnny Hopp of the St. Louis Cardinals says that in five years of major league ball he has been caught only twice going from first to third on an outfield hit. No wonder those amazing Cardinals outlegged the Yankees in the world series last fall. General Eisenhower, leader of the American north African offensive, once coached the St. Mary's (San Antonio, Tex.) college football team. In his younger days he was a prominent athlete at West Point. Grant Warwick of the New York Rangers is stone deaf and was rejected by the Canadian army.

'Round Our Town
Last week in this column we told you about the new schedule which was being drawn up for this group. The boys gathered together in Barrie on Friday night under the conensorship of J. F. Dobson of Barrie. All the games that have been played will still count.

The new schedule calls for all Newmarket home games to be played on Thursday nights. The manager of the rink and the civilian population should be pleased about this. If memory serves us right, Thursday night has always been hockey night in Newmarket.

Tuesday night it was our pleasure to pay a visit to Aurora. Down there we watched Brampton and Newmarket meet in an intermediate "A" game. It seemed to us that Controller Fred Hamilton of Toronto and his Sports Service League should give the Brampton boys a few more sticks. I believe the team had only eight sticks and when changes were made during the game the sticks that were available had to be passed from one player to another. There's quite a difference in the way the crowd turned up at Aurora, in comparison with Newmarket. Down there the gate was around $80—up here it touched the $225 mark.

This week this column is going to go out on the limb and pick three stars from Tuesday night's game. We didn't like to do this on our own. So we prevailed upon Stan Smith, manager of the Newmarket rink, to pick out three of the outstanding men on the ice. Down at Maple Leaf Gardens they award a silver spoon to Elmer Ferguson's three star selections. (They say Syl Apps has a couple of cupboard drawers full of them.) We can't arrange to give spoons. After all, what would the boys do with spoons? But the Strand theatre, through its genial manager, Morley McPhee, has presented a theatre pass for each three-star selection from the Newmarket camp.

Here they are. The first star goes to McMaster of the Newmarket camp. All night he seemed to go good, both ways. During the evening he made four or five brilliant rushes. Two of these he climaxed with goals. It seemed to your three-star selector that McMaster was right on the job whenever there was a close play around the Brampton net. McMaster's a Sault Ste. Marie boy with four years' hockey experience. Last year he played with the intermediates from that city. For three years previous to that he was a member of the famous Soo "Greyhounds" in the N.O.H.A.

The second star goes to Bob Bangay. After a sort of listless first period, it seemed that Bob started the boys on the victory road in the second. He got one lovely goal in this period. In fact it was the nearest one of the night. In the third period he countered with another. Bob Bangay is a Markham boy who played junior against Newmarket a couple of years ago. Last year he played for Markham intermediates, against the same camp that he plays for now.

Our third star goes to Campbell, the good left wing of the Brampton team. He's not the flashy type of player, but any coach can rely on him to be on the job at all times. Campbell's a Toronto boy. He never had any junior experience but came up to intermediate ranks through the T.H.L. The early part of this season he played in the major commercial series at Varsity arena.

Honorable mention goes to Szabo, Harris and Abrams of Brampton. Stewart and Wheeler played dashing games for Newmarket. Our three-star selections again—McMaster, Bob Bangay and Campbell.

While we're on the subject of blood donors, it is reported that all the players on the Maple Leaf hockey club roster were willing to donate a pint of the precious plasma to the blood donors' clinic in Toronto, but, and here's the sticker, the management of Maple Leaf Gardens wouldn't let them do it.

MEN AND WOMEN OF TRINITY SAY THANKS

Many letters of appreciation have been received by Trinity United church war service committee for Christmas boxes sent to members of the armed forces both overseas and in Canada.

"I wish to thank my friends of Trinity United church for their kindness in sending me this dandy parcel which I received today," writes Sgt. A. Lindenbaum from overseas. "I sure do appreciate it very much, not only for the comforts which I assure you all overseas chaps appreciate but also for the sentiment behind a gift of this type."

"As you know, I am with the Canadian forestry corps and all the units connected with this corps are working very hard to keep production up to a maximum. All our camps are beehives of industry and it is very interesting to be in the centre of it. The company I am with is very mixed, having a personnel from every province of Canada, but even with all this conglomeration of small groups, the morale and health are excellent. We are all anxiously looking forward to the day when we can return home."

A letter from Gnr. Fred Cunningham to Rev. Henry Cotton says: "I received your letter a few days ago and was glad to hear from you. The only news I receive of the church is through Cliff Barker and Ken Johns but now I will have to rely on you. I believe the choir is having a hard time to keep the bass and tenor parts filled. Some day we may be able to build it up to what it should be. Things are very quiet over here now and we hope to be home soon. Remember me to the choir and Mr. Harris."

"Thank you so much for the grand parcel of foodstuffs that arrived Wednesday morning," writes Sgt. H. G. Thompson. "Believe me, it makes a chap feel mighty good to receive things from home and needless to say every article in the parcel will be thoroughly enjoyed. Fruit juices are unobtainable here and they are something that I have missed a great deal, while the candy is more than welcome, as milk chocolate is a thing of the past in this country. The woolies are always a help. Things are going along as usual but like all the boys I'm anxious to get back to my home and family. May I take this opportunity to wish all the members of the church a happy and successful new year."

"Received your letter of Sept. 29 about two weeks ago," writes Gnr. Lorne McCordick. "Yesterday a most welcome surprise came when I received the autographed poster of the 1942 Varsity Fair. I would like to extend, through you, my thanks to all those who sent their greetings on it. I would have been answered sooner but have been on manoeuvres and did not have much time for letter writing up to now. It is about three weeks since we have had any time off, not even Sundays, so today we received a holiday and are using it to catch up on our correspondence."

"On usual passenger runs each compartment of a train carries eight passengers. It was quite an agreeable surprise on our train to have only six to a compartment, so the train-ride we took recently on manoeuvres was fairly comfortable."

"I don't know whether you have visited Wales, but to my mind it is one of the most beautiful parts of the country I have seen over here, especially at sunrise when the sun rises above the mountains."

Sgmn. Walter Brymer writes: "I received your most welcome letter. It had been forwarded from Canada and that is why I haven't written before now. Coming over, the weather was very good except for one rainy day. I would rather have the barracks here than in Canada. They are made of plaster and ground stone and are very much warmer than the ones we have been in. There are 15 persons in a hut with a fireplace in the middle of the hut.

"For entertainment we have a show, sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., every night. About a block from here there is a swimming-pool. It is run by the English army and is open every second night. It is about three years since I last saw my older brother but I expect to see him in London on my leave."

Miss Mabel Davis writes from England to Mr. Cotton: "Just recently I received your letter and I cannot tell you how surprised and pleased I was to have it. It is, I think, exceedingly kind of you to include me in the large list of men and women engaged in war work to whom you are writing. It is a big task in itself and must take a great deal of your time. I was even more surprised and pleased to learn that my name had been included with those placed on the honor roll of Trinity church. It had never occurred to me that my voluntary service might be recognized in that way, and I do not feel quite sure that my merit is great enough to deserve it."

"As compared with the heroic part played by our airmen, and your own record in that force is a fine example, and by our soldiers and sailors, my own contribution seems to me exceedingly insignificant. I need not say, however, that I place a very high value upon the honor that has been done me, and should be glad if you would convey my very deep appreciation and thanks to the war service committee, and those others connected with the management of the church, to whom I am indebted for the decision to include me in the honor roll. I shall try most earnestly to make what service I can render as worthy as possible of the recognition given me."

Letters were also received from Pte. Vern Clark and Tpr. Roy Farren.

Letters have been received from many on service in Canada thanking the war service committee for Christmas boxes.

Matron Lillian Thomas writes: "The very lovely box you sent arrived on Dec. 17 and came as a bright spot toward the celebration of the second anniversary of my entering the service. We naturally look for the boys to be remembered occasionally, but it does not as a rule include the nurses in the service, therefore it gives me a great deal of pleasure to convey to you and others my very great thanks and appreciation for the same."

Letters were also received from Gnr. John P. Scott, Fredericton, Bill Hamilton, Vancouver, Charles Purchase, Camp Borden, Jack Arlitt, Camp Borden, A. H. Atkins, Toronto, Capt. W. O. Noble, St. Thomas, Lieut. Law. Chantler, Orillia, Bob Cody, Guelph, Grant Crowder, Petawawa, Lt.-Col. Ang. FRANK BOWSER, PRESIDENT HAROLD McCLELLAND, SECRETARY

To Our Policyholders

At our ninety-sixth Annual Meeting we were able to report another year of most satisfactory progress during 1942.

The report showed that the great stability of your Company which has been such a satisfaction to all policyholders was still further improved.

Once more great numbers have been helped through distressing circumstances because of their co-operation with the many thousands of others who constitute this Company. At the same time the funds which have been accumulated on your behalf are being employed very largely in your country's war financing.

A complete annual report is available at any of our offices.

Whom we cherished so dear. But God called her from this earth. To a greater home of rest. Forget you, dear mother, we never shall.

As years roll on we miss you still; The blow was great, the shock severe. We little thought the end was near. It's only those who have lost can tell. The sorrows of parting without farewell. But God is good to give us strength. To bear so great a loss. Lovingly remembered by husband and family.

Wrightman — In loving memory of a dear sister, Gladys Clark Wrightman, who passed away Jan. 25, 1938. She has gone across the river To the shores of evergreen. Lovingly remembered by her sisters, Eva and Mary.

The room was decorated with evergreens, painted white with artificial snow, in the form of a fan, which made a fine setting. Rev. R. McMath officiated at the service. Miss Meta Middlebrook played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white slipper satin fashioned on torso lines with long fitted sleeves going to a point over the wrist. COMFORTS FUND NEEDS BECOME EVER GREATER

When the men of the Canadian army first went overseas many Newmarket men were among the contingent. It was at that time the veterans of Newmarket decided to look after these boys by sending them cigarettes and an occasional parcel of food and the Newmarket Veterans' Comforts Fund was formed for that purpose.

An appeal for funds was inserted in the Express-Herald and the response of a few citizens, coupled with the efforts of the Newmarket veterans in raising money by euchre parties and dances, proved ample to provide these boys with their smoking necessities until the past few months, when, owing to the increasing number of boys over there, it has become a problem to look after them as they should be, and to continue the good work more funds had to be obtained.

It was decided at a recent meeting of the Comforts Fund committee to make a personal canvass of the citizens of town for this purpose and when volunteers were called for to do this work Comrade Hayes and Comrade Duffield offered their services and canvassed a number of citizens for donations and subscriptions with gratifying results.

In addition to donations the monthly subscription list was trebled, but as there are now over 125 Newmarket boys overseas the list as it stands now will have to be enlarged considerably in order to send each boy $1 worth of cigarettes every month or six weeks and an occasional parcel of "eats." Euchres will be held as often as possible to augment the subscription list and if everybody pulls together the boys will be well looked after for the duration.

Following is a full list of donations and monthly subscribers to the fund, which are gratefully acknowledged:

Mrs. Alfred Brillinger
Dies At Gormley Home

In failing health for almost a year, Elizabeth Heise Brillinger died at her home at Gormley on Jan. 16.

Elizabeth Heise was the daughter of Christian Heise and Anna Witter Heise. She was born on the homestead in Markham township, near Gormley, which was bought and settled by Christian Heise in 1805, on Sept. 9, 1856. The farm is still in the Heise name. The seventh generation are now enjoying what their forefathers hewed out of virgin forest.

About the same time Abraham Witter came from Pennsylvania and settled on a farm one mile outside Preston in Waterloo county. Here Mrs. Brillinger's grandfather was born. The fifth generation are enjoying this homestead.

Elizabeth Heise married Alfred Brillinger on Oct. 8, 1878. He predeceased her in August, 1932. Mrs. Brillinger was a woman of noble ideals, always weighing things in her mind, choosing the right and standing by it. She always believed right would win at any cost. She chose to do right and feared to do evil. Her counsel was wonderful to the last of life. She was a member of the Brethren in Christ (Tunker) church.

Mrs. Brillinger was the last remaining member of the late Christian Heise's family, her three brothers, J. W. Heise, formerly on the homestead at Heise Hill, Rev. D. W. Heise, Gormley, and J. A. Heise, Stouffville, all predeceased her.

One daughter, Annie (Mrs. David Hills), survives. A son, Percy, died in infancy.

The funeral service was held in Heise Hill church on Jan. 19. Rev. Jesse Steckley conducted the service and was assisted by C. J. Cullen, A. Winger and J. C. Coker. Interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

ELTON ARMSTRONG'S
LEADERSHIP PRAISED

Elton Armstrong was re-elected president of the Aurora Horse show at the annual meeting on Saturday in the I.O.O.F. hall.

Mr. Armstrong was awarded the annual certificate of honor presented by the society.

"Mr. Armstrong has done a fine job as president and has made many contributions to agriculture not only in York county but outside it," declared Malcolm Richardson, who made the presentation.

There was a fair attendance considering the condition of roads, and much enthusiasm was shown over the society's successful war charities carnival, held on July 1 in conjunction with the Aurora board of trade. It netted $57 for war charities.

"We will not be able to have a horse show but I feel we should hold an affair of some sort during the year to raise funds for war purposes," said Mr. Armstrong.

"It is gratifying to see our organization held together and ready to carry on when peace comes," said C. D. Y. Leacock, chairman of the board of directors.

W. M. Cockburn, York county agricultural representative, addressed the meeting briefly and after his address an invitation was extended to the York County Crop Improvement Association to hold its annual show in Aurora this year.

Officers elected were: president, Elton Armstrong; 1st vice-pres., A. W. McLennan; 2nd vice-pres., Walter Wood; sec-treas., A. M. Kirkwood; chairman of the board, George D. Y. Leacock; directors, Charles F. Ry, George Haldwin, A. Lorne Cousins, Robert Hollingsworth, Charles Casey, R. S. Starr, Alex. Doner, Walter Bovair, Chalmers Black, Malcolm D. Richardson, Cameron Walkington, William E. Barker, S. P. Jarvis, Charles A. Malloy, Frank W. Teasdale, Edward Reddick, Alan Mills, Howard Morning, Major Clifford Sifton and Frank Proctor.

Honorary officers remain the same as in other years. Representatives to various organizations will be appointed later.

TED BUNDY LISTED
MISSING, JOINED 1940

Officially listed as missing in the R.C.A.F. communiqué of Wednesday was Sgt. Edward Herbert Bundy, whose mother, Mrs. W. E. Bundy, resides at 330 Kingston Rd., Toronto.

Sgt. Bundy resided in Aurora a few years ago and was employed by the Sisman Shoe Co. He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1940 and was a member of the same air crew as Sgt. George Graham of Aurora, and both families received word in December that the boys were "missing." Last week it was announced that Sgt. Bundy was a prisoner of war.

Six-Man Squad, Courtesy
Goalie, Get Last Minute Win

Staging a whirlwind finish, a short-handed King City squad on Monday night nosed out Sisman Shoes 6-5 with 30 seconds to go in a fast town league fixture.

With some farm lanes still blocked, and other players on work, King arrived at the rink with six players, including youthful Art Walker.

Manager Bill Holloway, rather than have the game go to his team by default, sportingly agreed to allow Charlie Case of Ordnance to guard the King nets and the game was on.

In the first period Eric Billbrough, Stan Walker and "Wink" Barnard scored goals for Sisman's while the veteran Leon Shropshire, assisted by "Andy" Lloyd, got two back for the farmers. Walker drew the only penalty of the game from Kereere (Johnny) Myers.

Both sides tallied in the second period, Billbrough doing a single act for the shoes and Angus McArthur scoring on a picture play, as Lloyd set up, the rubber for a.m.

Sisman's looked to have the game in the bag as Wink Barnard sent home Alex. Ferguson's pass from the corner to make it 5-3. Then Shropshire and his mates really turned on the heat, and Shropshire scored three in a row in the last seven minutes, McArthur, Lloyd and Walker picking up assists.

"Mouse" MacMain, making his first start in the nets this season, stopped both the tying and winning plays but the Sisman boys let the puck remain loose and Shropshire made no mistake.

MacMain, previous to the winning goal, had his ear shaved by a bullet drive from Folliott.

Shropshire, with five goals, was the star of the night and along with Lloyd and Folliott played the entire 60 minutes. Charlie Case, back with his old team, was never better. McArthur, Walker and Botham worked like Trojans. Billbrough, Barnard and Ferguson were best on the forward line for Sisman's, with Rose playing fine defensive hockey.

MacMain, playing with a style reminiscent of Ben Ford, turned in a fine effort. Tommy Myers handled the game smoothly.

King: goal, Case; defence, Folliott and Lloyd; centre, Shropshire; wings, A. Walker and A. McArthur; sub, Botham.

Sisman's: goal, MacMain; defence, Rose and H. Sutton; centre, Jones; wings, Billbrough and Mickey Sutton; subs, Barnard, Ferguson, Walker, Fleury and Smart.

When Soldier Meets Soldier
Someone's Got To Weaken

By AB. HULSE

Old man Caesar described a military triumph with the words, "veni, vidi, vici," or in plain ordinary language, "I came, I saw, I conquered," and Lieut. Dave Matheson and his boys from No. 23 training centre at Newmarket can write their dispatches about Tuesday's game with Brampton camp in Aurora as tersely and eloquently.

Newmarket conquered all right. The score was 8-1 and might have been more but for some super netting by "Flash" Abram but Bing Caswell's Brampton luddies went down with colors flying and until their condition went west, and they became disorganized, the boys from Newmarket did all right, and they never gave up trying until the final bell.

The Redmen are good, have had plenty of practice and have a roster of "name" players to tickle the heart of the gloomiest coach. We do not take anything from their performance when we say that Brampton had had only one practice in a rink, and one game. The boys are still in the process of learning each other's names. The Camp Harkness huskies have practised together so often they can almost tell where their mates are with their eyes shut.

The game started at a fast clip and Bob and Nick Bangay, playing on old stamping grounds, tried Abram in fast order. Shaw steered Campbell to the corner in the nick of time just as he was set to test Hughes. Cawling drew a penalty at 2:40 and Brampton survived by carrying the puck out of their own zone regardless of chances. At 5:39 Bangay secundus (as they say at prop school) passed the puck to Charlie Nesbitt and with some stick wizardry the Bradford boy drove home the rubber.

Bill Harris caused that from the red ink on a nice solo effort which Hughes found too hot. Brioux was thumped at 8:30 by Jock Bennett for hooking, and only Abram held the fort as Stewart and McMaster were dangerous.

Heenan was next to the shin-blin and only some doughty work by Bangay major saved the day, with Nesbitt and Shaw being tricky. With both sides coming in, the count went in close, Nick setting up the play and Nesbitt getting a gift assist from the referee.

The score at the end of the second period was 5-1, with the margin the same at 8-1 when the final period was over.

The win firmly entrenched the Redmen in first place in the group and gave them plenty of confidence playing shorthanded.

Newmarket gave a crowd-pleasing display and while the gate was not large the fans went away well satisfied and convinced that Bing Caswell has a team in tow that by day-off time should be flying.

The entire Newmarket team played well, but our personal opinion was that McMaster, Tommy Stewart and Bob Bangay had a margin on the rest. The first two were here, there and everywhere, and were equally dangerous coming or going. Jock Bangay was a cool calculating game, and set up things for his wings perfectly. He worked hard all the way too.

Ernie Hughes in goal was steady and at times brilliant. He handled a total of 35 shots.

Brampton, dressed in neat white and blue sweat shirts, with dark trousers and stockings, was not as well balanced but has some dangerous boys. Bill Harris, Jock Szabo and Don Campbell were best up front.

The second line were revamping. Brioux and "Blondie" Huffman were best at the blue-line. Abram in goal played one of the best games ever seen in the rink. We seriously doubt if in recent years any goalie has handled 53 pucks in a game as he did. Fast that matter, he was open style and his defence was well intact. The total shots on goal, 56.

Brampton meets Orillia in Aurora next Tuesday and by then should be ready to go places.

Three star selections from this corner would be McMaster, Bangay and Abram. We would like to include Stewart too, but four aren't three. McMaster had three scoring points, and was a whippet on skater and clean too. Bob Bangay was Johnny-on-the-spot throughout and has seldom looked better to these eyes, and he's no stranger. Abram? Who could ask for anything more?

Newmarket: goal, Hughes; defence, Shaw and Wheeler; centre, R. Bangay; wings, N. Pungay and Nesbitt; subs, Heenan, Nichol, McMaster, Stewart, Wynski.

Brampton: goal, Abram; defence, Tremblay and Brioux; centre, Szabo; wings, Campbell and Day; subs, Murlin, Harris, Huffman, Cawling.

PICKERING COASTS
TO HOCKEY VICTORY

Pickering college, led by Mort Lang, defeated St. Andrew's college seniors 8-3 in an exhibition tilt at the Aurora arena Saturday afternoon.

St. Andrew's started off well, with Kennedy getting the opening goal. At the end of the second period the teams were tied. In the last period Pickering coasted to victory with a five-goal barrage.

Lang accounted for five goals for Pickering, while Moore and Mould played well. Kennedy and Garratt (1) were best for the Andies.

S.A.C. goal, Taylor; defence, Kennedy, Clarkson; centre, Garratt; wings, Garratt 2, Brown; subs, McLeod, Wynne, Eirington 1, Eirington 2, Donoghue, Lowndes.

Pickering: goal, Kennedy; defence, Moore, Price; centre, Lang; subs, Lambert, Mould; Richardson, Ivey, Thomas, Foster, Henderson.

WHITCHURCH REEVE IS CUT OFF FROM GORMLEY

Reeve George Leary of Whitchurch was a weekend guest in town. On Friday, after the week's county council session, Mr. Leary, who lives at Gormley near the third concession, attempted to go home via Markham, but found the road impassable with snow. Coming to Aurora he learned that the Wellington St. road was blocked and that if he went down the 4th concession via Newmarket he would be able to get only as far as the Vandorf subway, where huge piles of snow were awaiting him. Mr. Leary decided to "cut out" in Aurora until either the season reported on Tuesday or a road to his home was opened.

BANK OF COMMERCE
CLOSES AT AURORA

The Aurora branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce will close its doors on Saturday, leaving Aurora with two chartered banks.

The Bank of Montreal is taking over the business of the Bank of Commerce, while at Georgetown the procedure is reversed. The Bank of Montreal is the oldest bank in the community, followed by the Imperial Bank, which took over J. M. Walton's private bank in 1923. The Sterling Bank came to Aurora and built the present building on Yonge St., which, it is understood, is now for sale. The Standard Bank in turn took over the business of the Sterling Bank and then was in turn absorbed by the Bank of Commerce.

A. M. Kirkwood, still a resident of Aurora, was the first manager of the branch and remained as manager until 1939, when he retired and was succeeded by Mr. "Sammy" McNeill, the present staff, besides Mr. McNeill, consists of E. H. Conn, Miss Marie Paxton, Miss Marguerite James and Miss Bernice Connor.

Some of the present staff will be transferred to the Bank of Montreal, while the rest will be moved elsewhere. Mr. McNeill expects to be in Aurora for some months, assisting in the transfer of accounts and business and the final clearing of routine matters. G. L. Moody, manager of the Bank of Montreal, was transferred to Aurora late in 1941.

Bank branches at several rural centres throughout North York have been closed and the latest closings at Nobleton and Kleinburg have raised protests from residents of both centres. The Imperial Bank at Schomberg had a branch at Nobleton and the Royal Bank at Woodbridge had a branch at Kleinburg. Now both are closed and Nobleton residents must go to Schomberg and those from Kleinburg to Woodbridge.

Farmers feel that it would be a lot of gas and oil to have a branch open one day a week rather than have the customers make trips to either centre. Deputy-Reeve Lorne Goodfellow of King township intends to take up the matter with the wartime price and trade board on behalf of the residents of King township.

"There will be a tremendous waste of gas, tires and farm time," said Mr. Goodfellow. "Closing at Schomberg one day a week and opening at Nobleton would solve the matter."

HIGH SCHOOLERS ARE TOO MUCH FOR SAINTS

Aurora high school junior basketball squad went to the top of the inter-scholastic league on Monday by defeating St. Andrew's college juniors 33-12 at the college.

St. Andrew's made a good fight for the first half, with the local boys leading 16-10, and the play even closer. The second half saw the Aurora defence smother the Andean attacks and draw away comfortably.

Foul shots accounted for the prop. scholastic two points. Goodfellow led the Aurora attack with 12 points, while Bill Williams was the best man on the floor. Gilkes, who played a fine game, was banished in the last quarter with four fouls.

Hirsch and Pratt were best for St. Andrew's. Pratt of Pickering handled the game well.

A.H.S. (33): guards, H. Williams (8), Hirsch (2), forwards, Gilkes (5), Goodfellow (12), C. Williams (3); subs, Devina, Patrick, Westcott (4), E. Rose, McNaught.

S.A.C. (12): guards, Hirsch (4), Rapmund; forwards, Sheppard (3), Price, Milligan; subs, Heverley, Pratt (4), Hendry, Crombie, Ed ward (1), McKinnon.

Social Services Chairman
Suggests V.O.N. Nurse

The newly formed social services committee of Aurora council, composed of Reeve C. A. Malloy, Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks and Councillor G. A. C. Guntton, chairman, held its first meeting on Friday evening and swung into action to clean up the tannery creek situation.

Councillor Guntton was instructed to obtain all the factual details and technical information, while Town Solicitor L. G. Lee will prepare a brief on the legal points involved.

"I am convinced we can clean up this matter this year," Councillor Guntton told The Era and Express. "It has dragged on too long now and it should not be allowed to go on. I know we can get priorities for whatever materials we may need."

The committee is also studying various social service matters and may call a public meeting later, so that citizens will have a chance to express themselves on such matters as the New Zealand social service plan, the Beveridge report and the Runn plan.

"I would like to see Aurora adopt the V.O.N. public health nurse system, as Newmarket is doing," said Dr. Guntton. "We did not discuss it in the committee but I propose to bring it before the public if a public meeting is held. 'Councils cannot do so much themselves but if backed by public opinion they can make their voices heard. The governments have their ear to the ground for public opinion. Now is the time for people to express their freely.'"

Aurora Lady Is Red Cross
Corps Dominion Commander

Mrs. Barnston Tudball of Aurora has been appointed national commandant of the Red Cross Corps for all Canada.

Mrs. Tudball is a graduate of St. Margaret's college, Bishop Strachan school and Heathfield school, Ascot, England. Her husband was for many years a master at St. Andrew's college.

Mrs. Tudball rode with the Toronto and North York Hunt club. A few years ago she suffered a serious injury when thrown from her horse. She is also a member of the Toronto Skating club and the Ladies' Golf club at Thornhill.

Up until a few months ago blood donors from Aurora at frequent intervals made trips to Toronto to donate blood and quite a few persons in town have given over three donations and proudly wear the blood donors' badge.

Since J. A. Goodenrich gave up the chairmanship of the blood donors' committee a few months ago, blood donating has been somewhat dormant.

The effort is said to be usually beneficial to the donor. Biggest hardship to the individual would be doing without fats on the day of the clinic.

Blood Wanted By United Nations Fighting Fronts

"A blood donors clinic will be held in Aurora United church on Tuesday, Feb. 16, from 4 to 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Aurora Red Cross," Dr. E. J. Henderson, president of the Red Cross, told The Era and Express on Tuesday.

"The four local physicians are co-operating and about ten local nurses, but it will be necessary for us to have 25 volunteer donors," Dr. Henderson said. "Aurora has done well to date but not in the last few months. Factory workers may register with their superintendents, Ordnance workers with Lieut. Badley, and others may advise me. I hope Aurora will make a good showing. It is needless for me to impress on the public the great need for blood donations."

AURORA BOY RECEIVES
"SPARKS" AT GUELPH

Reg. H. Wade, son of Mrs. M. Wade, received his "sparks," the insignia of wireless operators, at Guelph on Friday. Reg. was one of the R.C.A.F. boys to enlist with the R.C.A.F. and was stationed at Jarvis for some months, where he was a member of the station's orchestra. Anxious to see service overseas, at his own request he was transferred to an crew personnel about six months ago.

PUBLIC SCHOOL KIDS
TAKE A.H.S. LADS

As a prelude to the King-Sisman's game on Monday Aurora public school seniors tangled with Aurora high first formers. The Habcock boys, with more practice and team work under their belts, took a neat 10-2 decision.

The fans went for the kids in a big way and more games will be played. Roy Faulkner handled the game well.

Tommy Brodie scored three for the winners and along with the Sutton, Roy, Mould (2) and Davis (2) led a blistering attack. Doolittle and Harrison, in the opposing nets, both did yeoman service. Rob Walker, Gene Rose and VanNostrand were the pick for the high school.

Public school: goal, Doolittle; defence, Mould and Hank; centre, Brodie; wings, McGhee, Rose; subs, Sutton, Wilcox, Davis, Attridge, Lawson, Simmons and Holman.

A.H.S.: goal, Harrison; defence, Walker and Davidson; centre, E. Rose; wings, Cousins and VanNostrand; subs, Lawson, Holl, Hollingsworth, Patrick.

ST. ANDREW'S JUNIORS

St. Andrew's college junior basketball team defeated Pickering juniors 23-19 at the Newmarket school last week. The game was fast and well played. The Andean lineup was: Hirsch, Milligan, Price, Edwards, Rapmund and Sheppard.

Arthur Thiele of the college staff is handling the junior team this season.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Cpl. Howard Leonard, mentor of the Angus Bombers, who promise to make things interesting in the local O.H.A. group, dropped in to see us on Saturday afternoon and give the low-down on his team. Leonard, 44, a soft-spoken, slightly gray-haired man, is a veteran of the Great War and doing a fine job again in charge of equipment near Borden. Never a great player himself, he knows his way around the hockey world, and for some years played amateur hockey at Vancouver, and in Edmonton. He was associated with Guy and Frank Patrick, and Bill Tobin, now business manager of the Chicago Black Hawks. When he was moved east, his wife and young son accompanied him and are now residing in Aurora. The transfers of recent weeks by the R.C.A.F. have taken some fine material away from the team. Avison, former Flin-Flon goalie, Rimmer of Regina Pats, and Coakley of Truro, along with a couple of other experienced performers, were posted elsewhere just prior to the opening game.

Angus Bombers may not win the group but they will be well tutored and game to the last.

Montemurrow from North Bay is expected to be the regular net-minder and he is said to be as good as Hughes and Wysinski, Morley White of Midland or Abrams of Brampton. Parham played in the opening game and while he played well looked weak on a couple of vital ones.

Tommy Sills, veteran Camp Borden performer and a real bouncer, is at one defence post and partner with him is Borden Wheeler, lone civilian on the team. Wheeler, who was with Barrie Colts and Atlantic City in amateur ranks, is overweight right now, but as dangerous as ever.

Newmarket fans will have a real interest in the Bombers, as two of their forwards are Newmarket boys. Alex. Mathewson has joined the team and the redhead would like to score a win over Newmarket, as you can guess. He played well with the team last year. Stan Evans, of Canastota is another sniper, and is coming on fast at and beyond Belleville there isn't a single team in eastern Ontario. Rest of the picture is much the same for territory but the lapses are many.

"Fat" James, former Aurora junior captain and Mimico boxla artist, is taking a special artillery course overseas and is lance-bombardier. He is a member of Major Con Smythe's battery and really enjoys army life.

Harold Cook, brother of Stouffville's Earl Cook, and himself a durable hardball performer with Stouffville for many years, is now stationed in Halifax with the army. These boys sure get around. We also learn that down in the Maritimes Charlie Spear, former goalie for Barrie Colts, who was once replaced by Aurora's Roy West, is a candidate for the goal job with the navy team and that Scotty Reid, former Oshawa junior, who was a big threat to Aurora Tigers, is now playing for Truro Bearcats. Gar Peters of Oshawa, his linemate, is playing hockey with Vancouver army team, and "Red" Jennett of Barrie juniors is with the R.C.A.F. team in the same league.

Alfie Harden, a game performer for Aurora juniors and Newmarket camp, is stationed at North Bay camp now and along with Alex. Jackson, manager of the camp's hardball champions of 1941, is playing for the Camp Chippawa entry in the North Bay City league. Jackson is on defence and Harden on the wing. Their team is at the bottom of the league and had yet to win their first start at last reports. Trappers, long a name to be reckoned with in northern hockey, are leading the circuit.

Frank Selke, now big boss of the Toronto Maple Leafs and a summer resident of King township, here his "Kings-Ridge" farm and horse breeding centre is located, had the honor of being the first Ontario owner to have a foal born in '43. No name has been given the baby as yet but its parents will be remembered by turf followers, namely, Shoeless Joe and his Peggy. Shoeless Joe was for some years one of Smythe's "surprise" winners at opportune moments. Selke has quite a plant west of King and seven more maps are due to bring racing prodigies into the world before long.

Dorrie Campbell, who is playing a strong game at right wing for Brampton camp, is the well-known Mimico-Brampton lacrosse star and he is just as handy with a hockey stick as the gutted lacrosse weapon. He played for Etobicoke juniors two years ago and also had a brief whirl with Marlboros. He was one of the top lacrosse scorers last season.

Carrville is leading the Richmond Hill team.

Bruce Stephens, who performed well for Aurora juniors the past two seasons at left wing, is one of the Carrville aces, and Denny Cosgrove, who played briefly for King last year, is another. Herbie Rose and Murray Hunt, two members of C. Coy. of the Queen's Yorks, are playing fine hockey for the Hill team. Emery is still winless. Stephens, incidentally, is being sought by St. Mary's of the Aurora town league and is expected to turn out shortly. He would be a valuable addition.

Injuries have struck the Ordinance team, with both Willie White and Bob Townley suffering cracked ribs in their games last week against Middlebrook's Aces. Ordinance, judging from the smiles worn by Pte. Charlie Case, will have a real contender for the league honors before they are through. Charles just shakes his head and smiles when you ask for names.

Mike juniors still undefeated and as good as there are this year in junior B have no less than five of last year's team in action this season and have secured one of the famous Gillespie brothers and Sanderson from Orangeville juniors of last season.

Matt Gowland, who hails from Milton and was the best player with St. Andrew's college last season, is teamed up on the defence with Joe Schottel. Ouellet, Scieszka, sub-goalie of last season, has replaced the sensational Lorne Evans in the nets. Milton looks every bit as good as last year.

Herb Burchall was a familiar sports figure in the Sutton-Uxbridge district a few years back. He was a fine ball player and much better at hockey. When Sutton Greenshirts first started on the championship trail, he was one of their big aces. His father was principal of Uxbridge high for many years and in university days Herb, continued to play with the Greenshirts, retiring too early for the elusive title. He wore a gold helmet in his last season, which saw sensational hockey.

Now he is Lieutenant Commander Burchall of the R.C.N.V.R., one of Canada's sea heroes, though as yet undecorated in the present war. A decorated war hero, he received a commission with the signals corps and in 1940 joined the navy as a sub-lieutenant. He quickly saw action off Murmansk and with the British navy and was aboard H.M.S. Renown in that little clash when it forced the Tirpitz, pride of the Nazi navy, to turn tail after a pasting.

Then he was sent to the Mediterranean and saw action off Malta. That north African campaign was right down Herb's alley, for he had planned to be married early this month and where he was situated with leave he couldn't make it per schedule. However, with the French airfields in United Nations' hands a trip via Atlantic clipper was easy and so a few weeks ago he middle-aged it with a former Uxbridge girl. The wedding, of course, was one of the romantic bits of the season. Sportsmen who knew Herb, as a player will be more than gratified to learn of the grand job he is doing. As a player he was unselfish, modest, and game to the end. On the quarterdeck, under more serious fire, he is just as steady as ever.

Mike Miller of Maple, who was a real smart lacrosse player with both Thornhill juniors and Richmond Hill Young Canadians, is stationed at Kingston with Signals. Mike was the younger and huskier of the two Miller brothers, who were dangerous around the nets.

"Dint" Scott, former Barrie player and last year with Collingwood and in third place in the group scoring race, behind "Joint" McCormick and Kirby, has been transferred to Red Deer, Alta., and is playing for the army team of that centre in the Alberta senior series.

Orillia camp will be the next team we hope to have a word picture about. The Brampton players declare Orillia has a fair sort of team and with practice will be in there fighting for a play-off berth. Lieut. Bruce Saunders, the sports officer, made a last-minute entry. Hence the boys aren't as far advanced as might be. With the exception of Newmarket camp, none of the other service teams had much idea what they would have on hand until the season opened. Like Newmarket, Orillia has an officer playing on its team in the person of Lieut. Ken Craig, who holds down right wing on the first line and does a good job. "Red" Gordon, an Orillia boy, is on the team and last reports were that "Raisins" Curran for years a player for Orillia lacrosse player and puckhouser, would join the squad. He is the younger of the well-known Curran brothers and is by name Ernest. That "Raisins" nickname was a natural if there ever was one. This lad Taglia-Bacci, on defence for the Orillians, is said to be very fast, but the team as a whole is weak defensively.

Alex. Ferguson, who patrols the Bond Lake-Bradford beat and is fast getting back to form on the ice-lanes, has received a bid from the police at Barrie to play for them in the big charity series to be played against the Orillia coppers next month. Alex. would like to help out too and would be about the best on the ice. However, the powers that be would have to give the nod unless the games were played on his day off. Fergus will remember was with Ottawa and Syracuse Stars and was retiring from steady participation. The games are booked for Feb. 5 and 12.

War... and the Telephone

War has created an unprecedented demand for telephones. At the same time, it has diverted large quantities of telephone materials and equipment to war purposes—both in our factories and our armed forces.

The result is that it is no longer possible to satisfy all civilian demand for new installations. Even when new telephones must be installed, the choice of instruments and services is limited.

As a telephone user, you can help to safeguard telephone service in the interests of Canada's war effort by carefully observing these wartime telephone tactics:—

WARTIME TELEPHONE TACTICS

- BE SURE you have the right number, consult the directory.
- SPEAK DISTINCTLY, directly into the mouthpiece.
- ANSWER PROMPTLY when the bell rings.
- BE BRIEF. Clear your line for the next call.
- USE OFF-PEAK hours for Long Distance calls: before 9 a.m., 12 noon-2 p.m., 5-7 p.m., after 8:30 p.m.

These things may look trifling, but on 6,500,000 daily telephone calls, they are very important.

visiting relatives in Toronto for a few days.

Mrs. Wm. Thompson entertained the members of the boys' comfort club on Wednesday. A letter was received from Mrs.
Thompson's son, who is a prisbox from the Red Cross and is so thankful for it.

Miss Helen Huntley was home for the weekend.
Mrs. Harlan Huntley and Mrs.
John McNeill are both ill with the flu.

There is so much snow and drifted roads this winter that different activities have had to be postponed until more favorable weather.

The death occurred in Toronto of a summer resident of Willow Beach, Mrs. Jessie Hill. Mrs.
Hill has been coming to her summer cottage for the last 22 years.
Miss Phyllis Sedore spent last week in Sutton, a guest of Miss Eileen Hill.

Willow Beach was practically isolated from Tuesday until Saturday. No mail was delivered from Wednesday and milk and bread were brought in from Sutton by toboggan.

Miss Dolly Huntley is undergoing treatment in Sutton hospital. Her legs were frostbitten when she was wading through the drifts to reach her home.

Mayor Invites V.O.N.
Nurse Presentation
To Council Monday

lieve that there should be any service for nothing. The maximum service should be given for small fees. The budget is made up with fees from patients, annual campaigns, grants. Fees usually amount to about a third of the expenses."

"There is a national organization and a local organization," said Miss Dawson. "The organization consists of a lay group and a professional group. The national organization is made up of ten members named by the governor-general-in-council and representatives of each branch.
There are 98 branches now. The annual meeting this year will be in Toronto.

"The chief superintendent and the assistant are graduate nurses.
There are supervisors, one in the Maritimes, three in Ontario and one in the west. This is a small group and an inexpensive set-up."
"The organization has an endowment, a grant from the federal government and a grant from the Ontario government. Each time we have a new government-general his wife makes a cavass of her friends to add to the endowment.

"There is a local committee of citizens. We like to start with a small group. You can enlarge it later if you wish.

"The national superintendent chooses the nurse for you. That is how we keep up the standards.
When the nurse resigns or leaves for any reason there is continuity of service. We always consult the local board in making appointments.

"Our chief concern is bedside nursing. We notice now that patients often return home earlier from hospital and need care.

"Our nurses have a year's public health training. They are trained to recognize symptoms and get people to their doctors earlier. We stand for prevention.

"The nurse is competent to do school nursing. It depends on the amount of time. There aren't as many home confinements as there used to be, and the nurse has more time. She makes her calls in the mornings and has her afternoons for the schools. She often arranges to see the teachers
the first thing in the morning.

"There is pre-natal and preschool work. The group for whom she is doing home nursing is often the same group for whom she does school nursing. She has a reason for going into the home.
People welcome the nurse.

"Today there is so much emphasis on nutrition. There too the nurse can help.

"The financing is done locally.
Usually there is a contribution from the council. There are fees from those who can pay. Those who are unable to pay are taken care of in the same way. If it is a choice between attending two patients, the family in greatest need of the nurse gets the nurse.
Pay is not a consideration.

"We do work for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. They pay us for visits to their policyholders. If the nurse happens to be called to the home of a Metropolitan policyholder then our cheque from the Metropolitan is that much larger.

"We think a membership campaign is a very good way to make up money and educate people as to the service. Some places have social events, but we think that it is better to make a canvass and house-to-house calls.

"The governor-general said last year that the V.O.N. was an essential service and that we shouldn't forget civilian needs or the young people coming along.
They are our second line of defence. I don't think that it would be a mistake to organize a service of this kind at the present time, either of the straight community public health nurse type or the V.O.N. type.

"Gananogue, Traill, B.C., St.
Thomas and Welland all organized V.O.N. branches last year."

Dr. Dales then invited questions.

Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards: "What size town can one nurse serve?" Miss Dawson: "We think one nurse could do the work in a town this size, 4,000 population, is it not? For school nursing it is said that one nurse can serve a school population of 2,000."

Principal H. A. Jackson said that the Newmarket public schools had a registration of 535.
Separate school and high school figures were not cited.

Dr. Dales: "What hours does the nurse work?"
Miss Dawson: "Eight to five.
She is on duty all the time for emergency calls. After five or on Sundays we expect only emergency calls."

Dr. Dales: "What about holidays?"
Miss Dawson: "She gets two weeks with pay. The local board arranges a local substitute while she is away."

Dr. Dales: "What is the usual grant from the municipal council?"
Miss Dawson: "Five hundred dollars to $1,200."

Dr. Dales: "What are her expenses?"

Miss Dawson: "Salary of $120 a month and transportation, which would be taxis at first."

Dr. Dales: "Would $200 or $300 cover transportation?"
Miss Dawson: "Yes."

Dr. Dales: "That is $1,700 or $1,800."

Miss Dawson: "We usually say $2,000, to be on the safe side, but it doesn't come to that."

Dr. Dales: "What about an office?"
Miss Dawson: "She should have an office. It is more business-like."

Dr. Dales: "Does the municipality supply the office?"
Miss Dawson: "Usually."

Mrs. Harry Bell: "Would she hold pre-natal clinics there?"
Miss Dawson: "Pre-natal clinics are not usually a success in places this size."

Mrs. Edwards: "What time would she have for school?"
Miss Dawson: "It depends on the amount of nursing."

Mrs. Edwards: "The home nursing comes first?"
Miss Dawson: "Yes."

Rev. J. A. Koffend: "Could she make that an excuse for neglect of the schools?"
Miss Dawson: "No. She is usually through her calls by noon."

Dr. Dales: "Do the schools arrange the school services?"
Miss Dawson: "Sometimes the schools pay for the school services, but sometimes the council makes a grant to cover that purpose."

Miss Dawson said that the V.O.N. nurse saves money for the community, and mentioned that one way was in enabling people to come home from the hospital earlier, including people for whose hospitalization the town would be paying.

Bernard McHale: "There is not necessarily a grant from the schools?"
Miss Dawson: "Not necessarily."

Dr. Dales: "Our free hospitalization in 1938 was $1,100. If you could cut off even ten percent that would be a help."

Dr. Dales stated that the town might be able to fix up the former clerk's office as an office for the nurse.

Dr. Dales called on Dr. Wesley for his comment on the proposal.

"I am interested in everything that is good for the children," said Dr. Wesley. "We should have had a school nurse this last year. I am looking forward to when we will have a real school nurse and before very long."

"I know we all took pride in that wonderful fairy tale about Russia that Mr. Bastedo told in The Era and Express. It was the first article ever in the Era.
It made me feel that we were neglecting the youngsters."

"In Russia after the last war 75 percent of the people couldn't read or write. In 1933 they found that they were not accomplishing what they might. In the years from 1933 to 1943 they have certainly made Russia the most marvellous country in the world.
It has been done by education, by establishing universities, while Germany mutilated education and destroyed universities. It has brought about the imminent downfall of Germany."

"Establishing universities and providing people of ability with opportunities to go to school has made Russia a nation of scientists."

"That address enhanced the reputation of Mr. Bastedo and reflected credit on Newmarket high school."

"The V.O.N. is all right but is secondary to a real school nurse and the program we first started on. The question is whether we want bedside nursing or real school nursing. The deputy minister of health told me the other day that if a V.O.N. nurse did bedside nursing she would have little time for school nursing.

"If you ask my preference I would say a full-time school nurse. She should go from house to house, collecting no fees, paid by the town council, under the control of the board of health."
"The objection run into before, is that she is paid only by the property-owners. It seems that as the province pays grants for teachers, it should pay liberal grants for a school nurse. The province should pay 50 percent.
If that could be done, we could have a school nurse, but if that can't be done, then I am in favor of a V.O.N. nurse."

Councillor Frank Bowser:
"Now or after the war?"
Dr. Wesley: "Beginning of 1944. We can't very well have a nurse without a vote of the people."

Dr. Dales: "Dr. Wesley has summed it up. We would like to have a school nurse, but we can't have one now. Eventually we might have two nurses. You couldn't ask the council to pay the whole thing now. I'd oppose it myself."

"I favor $1,000 grant or half a mill, $1,250. People are coming around in favor of a nurse. Dr.
Wesley is more in favor of it.
Perhaps, some of the rest of us are more in favor of it than before. We need to do more for our young people. It is time we had a swimming-tank. It is time we had a gymnasium in the town."

"I think the town would be willing to make a grant to provide an office. I don't think the project will be a success if you load the whole financial responsibility on the council or the whole responsibility for administration on the board of health."

Rev. J. A. Koffend: "Dr. Wesley said that the province should pay half. We can't wait for them. We must do something.
To ask that we wait until after the war is asking too much from those who favor it. Now is the time of stress and strain. The end of the war isn't going to be easy. There will be a certain amount of dislocation and unemployment at the end of the war. There were heavy social service problems after the last war."

Mr. Koffend asked if Mr.
Bowser wanted to wait until next year to have a nurse.

Mr. Bowser: "Oh no. I asked
Dr. Wesley when he favored having a nurse."

Mr. Koffend: "I don't see why we should wait 11 months. This is only January."

Dr. Dales: "Oh no. We can still get it in the budget."

Mr. Koffend suggested a committee be formed to take a definite plan before the town council.

Reeve F. A. Lundy: "What time would a nurse give to the schools?"
Miss Dawson: "About one quarter of her time."

Mr. Lundy: "I am told by some of the municipal men from East York—I believe East York has a V.O.N. nurse—that after getting started it doesn't take much of the nurse's time to keep the schools efficient."

Mr. Lundy asked who sends the nurse into private homes.

Miss Dawson said that the nurse herself calls the nurse.
"After the first call she can't go back unless there is a physician called and he sends her back."

Mr. Lundy: "Who decides whether the patient pays or not?"
Miss Dawson: "The nurse talks it over with the head of the family."

Mr. Lundy: "They report great satisfaction with the V.O.N. nurse in East York. Of course there are sometimes difficulties.
I think myself Dr. Dales is right.
We have to keep the burden off the property-owners. They're often old people who have little to live on."

Mr. Lundy said that there would be families who would resent being advised to do things that they couldn't afford.

Dr. Dales: "The Lions club will look after some of the recommendations."

Mrs. Bell: "If a V.O.N. nurse will cover health supervision in the schools, the Home and School Association is in favor of the V.O.N. Let's all get behind it.

POLICE COURT
MAN DRINKS RUBBING ALCOHOL 'FOR ECZEMA'

A 17-year-old Aurora youth, whom Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe, in York county police court last week, remanded in custody one week for judgment, was this week given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year. The youth had been found guilty of stealing two radios, one belonging to Elmer Yates of Aurora, valued at $20, and the other belonging to Elmer Rose of Aurora, valued at $15.

According to the evidence of Chief Constable Fisher Dunham, Aurora, the youth had also taken from clotheslines during the last five or six months silk underclothing valued at between $50 and $75.

"I have read from Ottawa that the accused has no record," Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., informed his worship.

"How long has he been in jail?" his worship asked Chief Constable Fisher Dunham. The officer replied that the youth had been in custody for 12 days.

Mr. Mathews stated that according to a doctor's report, although the youth was not mentally bright, he was not mentally ill and therefore knew what he was doing.

The boy's father promised to find him employment.

"His boy stole a lot of property and he had to pay for it," stated Magistrate Woodliffe.

"In view of this being the first time you have been in trouble I am going to suspend sentence and place you on probation for one year," his worship told the youth. "That means that you are not going out of here a free man. It only means that sentence has been suspended for as long as you keep out of trouble. If you get into any more trouble within the year, you will be brought back here and sentenced on this charge. You must pay these people for the damage you have done."

"You will have to pay an amount each week out of your weekly pay, an amount that I will set. Chief Dunham will be your probation officer and you will have to obey him. You are not to be out on the street after nine o'clock at night unless you are with your parents or with the permission of Constable Dunham."

Costs of the prosecution were $19 and damages were set at $33, which sum Magistrate Woodliffe ordered the youth to pay at a rate of $5 a week.

Being drunk in a public place as a result of imbibing rubbing alcohol cost Hugh Crossley, King township, $10 and costs or ten days.

Constable Aubrey Fleury of Whitechurch township testified that on Wednesday, Jan. 20, at 7:30 p.m., acting on information received, he went to Schomberg Junction, where he found the defendant in a drunken condition.

"He had been drinking rubbing alcohol and had this bottle and glass in his pocket," stated the officer exhibiting a glass tumbler and a bottle containing a small quantity of rubbing alcohol.

"What do you want to drink that for, don't you know that it will kill you?" his worship asked Mr. Crossley, who pleaded guilty to the charge.

The defendant said that he had had it for eczema which he had on his arm.

"It's to rub on your arm, not to drink," commented his worship.

Magistrate Woodliffe fined two motorists $25 and costs for travelling at 60 miles an hour on Yonge St.: A. Tompkinson, R.C.A.F. manning depot, Toronto, and William F. Richardson, Bolton. Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson laid both charges.

NEWMARKET WOMAN LOSES HER HUSBAND

Another of Macedon Center's (N. Y.) older residents has passed away. B. M. Hance died Tuesday, Jan. 5, at Thompson Memorial hospital, Canandaigua, following an emergency operation the previous Saturday afternoon.

Although he had been failing gradually for the past four years, he had enjoyed usually good health during the autumn and early winter.

Benjamin Mackall Hance, son of Abram L. and Lydia Packard Hance, was born Dec. 9, 1859, on the farm west of the Center settled by his grandfather, Thomas C. Hance. Here he lived over 52 years. He attended Macedon academy and later in life was a member of its board of trustees.

Mr. Hance was twice married. His first wife was Miss Ada Eldredge, daughter of William and Julia Eldredge of Macedon Center, whom he married Jan. 3, 1883, and who died April 1, 1919. One daughter was born to them, Esther Lapham, who died at the age of four years. On Sept. 2, 1922, he was married to Miss Helena Haskett of Rochester, N. Y., and Newmarket, Canada, who survives him.

Of Quaker parentage, he was a birthright member of the Society of Friends and a firm believer in its doctrines. He became a member of the Macedon Center Methodist church Dec. 23, 1901, and was an earnest church worker as long as his strength would permit. He was a member and regular attendant of the Men's Bible class. He served as trustee of Consolidated Dist. No. 9 for several years.

Quiet and unostentatious, he was a man of firm convictions, a sincere Christian and was highly respected in the community. Besides his wife, he is survived by four nieces and two nephews, Mrs. Harold Greene of Batavia, N. Y., Mrs. Ernest Dinse of Fairport, N. Y., Mrs. Clarence Miller and Mrs. Walter Eldredge of Macedon Center, N. Y., Frank Hance of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, and T. Clare Hance of Castle, all children of the late Fred and Jessie Parker Hance.

Funeral services were held at the home on Jan. 8, Rev. Warren A. Scherk, pastor of Macedon Center Methodist church, and Rev. Carl W. Hayes of Eden, a former pastor, officiating.

Bearers were William Barker, Carl C. Blaker, Raymond Fritts, Charles Kemp, Victor Smith and . . .

ST. PAUL'S HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING, ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual vestry meeting of St. Paul's Anglican church was held on Monday evening in the parish hall. The church wardens gave the report of last year's finances, and the reports of the different organizations of the church were laid before the vestry.

At the close of the reports election of officers was held. J. O. Little and J. E. Nesbitt were made church wardens, Arthur D. Evans, vestry clerk, C. C. Gamble, Frank Evans and Thos. Leach, auditors, David Riddell, envelope clerk, and Thos. Leach and J. O. Little, lay delegates to the synod with Alex. Belugin and Charles Evans alternates.

The W.A. tea on Friday afternoon was quite a success in spite of the severe cold. It was like spring in the parish hall, with the dainty decorations of pink and white festooning the room. In spite of rationing there was also a splendid variety of home baking, which, needless to say, soon disappeared. The members are encouraged and have decided to go ahead with plans for their annual spring tea in April.

The choir and the men's club are enjoying a sleigh-ride this evening if the weather permits.

Alex. Belugin has taken over the leadership of the choir.

In accordance with the request of Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen special prayers were said for the Russians. The rector called the attention of the congregation to the fund for aid to Russia, which has only this week to run. Commemoration of the conversion of St. Paul, Jan. 25, was observed. St. Paul is the patron saint of the Church of England in Newmarket.

Fred Spafford, members of the Packard Bible class of which Mr. Hance was an honorary member and Mrs. Hance assistant teacher. The body was placed in the vault at Macedon Center cemetery. Interment will be made later.

You can't be completely well if your liver isn't well.

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, supplies new energy, cleanses your bloodstream to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order food decomposes in your intestines. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. You feel "rotten"—headache, backache, dizziness, dragged out all the time.

Thousands have been prompted to ask "What's wrong?" So can you NOW. Try "Tribe's Liver" Canada's largest selling liver tonic. They must be good. You'll be delighted how quickly you'll feel like a new person, happy and well again. 25c, 50c.
